

AURELIA CASE STUDY

Premium or Nothing

PROJECT OVERVIEW

AURELIA is a modern fashion eCommerce brand focused on clean, minimal, and premium everyday wear.

I designed a marketing email campaign to promote a new collection and drive users to shop directly from the email.

GOAL

The goal was to create a visually appealing and conversion-focused email that:

- Highlights key products
- Feels premium and on-brand
- Encourages immediate action

(click → shop)

MY ROLE

UI/UX Designer

Tools: Figma, AI tools, Canva

PROCESS

- Studied modern eCommerce email layouts (Zara-style, minimal brands)
- Structured the email flow to guide users naturally:
 - Hero → Products → Social Proof → Urgency → CTA
- Used AI tools to speed up layout and collect ideas
- Refined spacing, typography, and alignment to achieve a clean, premium feel

KEY DESIGN DECISIONS

- Used a neutral color palette (black, white, beige) to reflect a premium fashion brand
- Focused heavily on product visuals to drive attention
- Placed CTA buttons strategically after high-impact sections
- Designed mobile-first to ensure readability and usability
- Kept layout minimal to avoid overwhelming the user

OUTCOME

This project demonstrates my ability to combine visual design with marketing thinking to create a high-converting email experience that aligns with modern eCommerce standards.
